-- New webpage on New Mechanisms Information Platform, featuring the latest information on NAMAs --

The New Mechanisms Information Platform has been updated with a new webpage featuring the latest information on NAMAs (<http://www.mmechanisms.org/e/namainfo/index.html>). The newly added page lists over 60 developing countries that have made submissions on their NAMAs to the UNFCCC with additional information, such as their overall GHG reduction targets, concrete mitigation measures to be taken, and baseline year (or baseline emission level). Moreover, you can also find and download the original submission documents of the countries listed on the webpage. So if you are in need of the latest information on NAMAs, please visit:

-- Publication of New Mechanisms Express No.5
- The New Mechanisms about to be Launched --

The fifth volume of New Mechanisms Express - a publication of the Ministry of the Environment, Japan (MOEJ) on its proposed new mechanisms - was just published. It features efforts of the MOEJ to assist developing countries with their mitigation actions, such as human capacity building for NAMAs development and MRV implementation as well as MRV demonstration and BOCM/CDM feasibility studies. You can view and download the fifth volume of New Mechanisms Express on the following webpage:
